

Resort Management Club

The Resort Management (RMT) Club is designed to be a group for all those who show an interest in clubs, resorts, and leisure real estate. Members of our club will learn about and discuss current events in the industry and build their database of knowledge about resorts worldwide as well as work on projects and provide various services to the community throughout the year. The club sponsors internships in top resorts and clubs, national field trips, and career planning.

Club Managers Association of America

Student chapters hold regularly scheduled meetings under the guidance of a faculty advisor and a CMAA liaison manager. Chapter meetings provide students with opportunities to participate in valuable career growth activities such as professional development programs, site visits to local clubs, leadership opportunities as a chapter officer and chapter visits by club management professionals. Information courtesy of CMAA

Methodist University opened as Methodist College, a senior coeducational college of liberal arts and sciences, in 1960. Today, the University's 70 majors and concentrations are housed in five schools: School of Arts and Humanities, Reeves School of Business and Economics, School of Public Affairs, School of Science and Human Development, and School of Graduate Studies. Three master's degree programs are currently offered.

Methodist currently serves approximately 2,100 students - 1,600 in the day program and 700 in the evening program. The university is located in Fayetteville, a thriving metropolitan city located in the Sandhills of North Carolina.

An extensive array of student organizations and intercollegiate sports allows Methodist students to grow in mind, body and spirit, empowering them to be the best in their chosen fields and to assume leadership roles in their communities.

Reeves School of Business

Methodist University's Reeves School of Business offers a very unique program: a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration, Accounting, Financial Economics, or Marketing with a concentration in Resort Management.

The concentration in Resort Management provides students with opportunities to pursue careers in the management of resorts and clubs, experience with hospitality, including involvement in the management and marketing functions, planning for real estate development, personnel administration, and convention management.

"The RMT Club as well as CMAA have been great extracurricular activities driven by the Resort Management Program. It provides students the opportunity to achieve a further insight into the hospitality field while developing relationships with other students pursuing a similar career path." - Eric Duea

Mission Statement

Resort Management Internships

Resort Management students must successfully complete either two 400 - hour internships or one 800 - hour in approved resort facilities. While these internships are usually completed during the summer months, students may complete an internship during the academic year. Typical internship experiences are at resorts and country clubs throughout the nation. Methodist places 100 percent of its RMT graduates in the Resort Industry. Our Interns and alumni work or have worked at many of the country's top facilities.

Requirements and Courses

In addition to the entrance requirements of Methodist University and the Reeves School of Business, a student entering the Resort Management program must have a high school GPA of 2.0 or higher. The student must be willing to interview with CRB faculty, take a personality test, participate in community services, and have a commitment to excellence.

Here are a few of the exciting courses you can expect to take:

- Resort Operations
- Special Topics in Resort Management
- Tourism/Resort Sales and Marketing
- Principles of Real Estate
- Food and Beverage Management
- Understanding Hospitality Law
- Contemporary Club Management
