Fort Bragg Director's Notes

As a soldier, summer, which officially kicked off on June 20 this year, was one of my favorite times of the year. It was a great opportunity to reconnect with family and friends, take a well-deserved vacation, or simply relax. I suspect this has not changed much since I retired from the Army six years ago.

For some of you, it is also a perfect time to place your education on hold for the summer, catch your breath, reflect on a successful 2015-2016 academic year, and prepare yourself for the fall semester. As you take a well-deserved respite for the summer, we ask that you keep two things in mind in preparation for the fall semester.

First, if you attended classes during the spring semester and have not turned in all of your college or high school transcripts, you need to do so as soon as possible. This is an admissions requirement that must be completed. If you do not complete this step, you run the risk of having your fall schedule canceled. We certainly don't want this to happen, so submit your outstanding documents to the Registrar's Office ASAP. If you have any questions, don't hesitate to contact us at bragg@methodist.edu or call at (910) 436.3624.

Second, if you plan to use Military Tuition Assistance to pay for your fall classes, make sure you submit your TA request through the GoArmyEd portal. The portal opened for registration June 22 for Fall Term I classes. Because we use a dual enrollment process for military students, you still must register for classes in the myMU portal. Please contact us if you need assistance in registering for your classes.

Mara and I are extremely proud of you and wish you and your families a wonderful summer season. We look forward to you “Spending the evening” with us again in the fall.

Congratulations on a job well done, be safe, and enjoy your summer.

Go Monarchs!

Tip of the month

* Check your student email account daily!

All too often we hear stories about soldiers who showed up for a class that was cancelled or who didn't get the message from their professors about a change to course work because they didn't check their student email accounts. Methodist University does not send school information to personal email accounts. So, you should check your student account often. If you do not check your email, you may miss a message that could impact your grade. Don't let a missed email hold you back.

Spotlight Program

Environmental & Occupational Management

What is Environmental and Occupational Management?

Environmental and Occupational Management (ENM) is a broadly based interdisciplinary field that combines Environmental Science & Management, Occupational and Health Management, Business Management with Legal Studies, Justice Studies, Biology & Chemistry.

Students will become specialized in Environmental Compliance, OSHA Safety Standards, Environmental Field & Laboratory Testing, Occupational Health Sampling, Plant Safety, Public Policy and Law.

Why should you major in ENM?

Both the Environmental and Occupational Management fields are rapidly growing. There are more and more regulations put in place by government every day and many of these new regulations require qualified individuals to fill the safety and compliance roles.

Our program has since its inception maintained a 100% job placement rate within 6 months of graduation. Many of our students graduate with jobs already lined up. This is due to the mandatory 100 hour internship every student must complete as part of their graduation requirement.

Job opportunities

In a wide range of settings:

- ◆ Governmental/Regulatory Agencies
- ◆ Business/Industry
- ◆ Public Health
- ◆ Emergency Management
- ◆ Education
