Alternative Loans

Alternative student loans are offered by banks or lending institutions to help students and parents bridge the gap between the cost of attendance and the amount of financial aid received. These loans are credit based supplemental loans not guaranteed by the federal government. Terms and conditions vary for each lender. Please refer the alternative loan section of the Office of Financial Aid’s website at www.methodist.edu; select Financial Aid; then Alternative Loans for additional information. MU does not endorse any lender or their products. Each lender varies in regard to terms, interest rate, and repayment options; therefore, students are encouraged to research private loan companies prior to borrowing. As a borrower, you may choose any alternative loan lender you prefer.
